Traveling & Living Abroad Guides

American Translators Association - In today's global business environment, the stakes are high. From ridiculous headlines to awkward or sloppy use of the local language, translation mistakes can be costly, embarrassing, and even disastrous. The American Translators Association can help you find the skilled translator or interpreter you need for a competitive edge. First, take a minute to learn how to get your job done right the first time. Then, find a translator or interpreter using our searchable online directory of translator and interpreter services.

Bureau of Consular Affairs - The Bureau of Consular Affairs supports over 11,000 people located in more than 300 places around the world, including 21 domestic passport facilities and two regional visa processing centers. As the public face of the Department of State for millions of United States citizens and foreign nationals around the world, the Bureau of Consular Affairs plays a vital role in the mission of the U.S. Department of State.

Electronic Embassy - The Electronic Embassy Web site turned fourteen years old on May 1, 2009. When the site was launched, only two of Washington's foreign embassies were on the Web. Now, most of the embassies have homes on the Internet to complement their addresses on Embassy Row. The embassy.org site's Business Directories allows companies serving the international community, and those working, living, and traveling internationally, to find their audience.

Escape Artist - A website that shows you how to restart your life abroad. With thousands of articles, contacts, resources, links and tools for finding overseas real estate, international employment, hidden enclaves, artist havens, unique destinations, offshore investments, and the requirements for living an international lifestyle. Since 1995, we have been helping escape artists just like you restart their lives abroad.

Foreign Policy Association - The Foreign Policy Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to inspiring the American public to learn more about the world. The Foreign Policy Association serves as a catalyst for developing awareness, understanding of, and providing informed opinions on global issues.

German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) - This website helps students, researchers and faculty in the USA and Canada on their journey to study or research in Germany.

GoAbroad.com - An international education and experiential travel resource. This website provides access to various databases.

GOINGLOBAL - The Goinglobal.com team is comprised of individuals representing many different nationalities who all have one experience in common-we have all lived and worked outside of our home countries. Goinglobal.com is committed to providing "grassroots intelligence" through our team of in-country researchers. These individuals are in place around the world to monitor and update the career information and resources that we deliver to you.

Living Abroad - Living Abroad delivers essential preparation information, resources, and tools for those preparing to live and work abroad.

Northwest Translators & Interpreters Society (NOTIS) - NOTIS sponsors this site as a forum for the exchange of ideas and information for the translation and interpreting community and for users of translation and interpreting services.

Transitions Abroad - For over 30 years, the comprehensive resource-now THE no-nonsense free portal-for meaningful experiential Work Abroad, Study Abroad, Cultural Travel Overseas, and International Living.

The Translator's Home Companion - The Translator's Home Companion is intended to serve as a focal point of information about resources available on the Internet and elsewhere for translators, interpreters, and all those interested in the arts and crafts of foreign languages.

Translatortips.com - This site is here to enhance and improve the lives of translators and those who would like to be translators. The slogan says it all really - helping translators do better business. We are here to help you do better in your translation business.