
WHEN THE ULTIMATE IN FRISBEE TAKES FLIGHT . . .

Matt Zimmerman, '04

. . . senior Matt Zimmerman is there with his camera.

Matt Zimmerman, a senior from San Diego, records the story of campus life in all its color and spirit in his role as a photographer for the communications office, the sports studies department, and the Pioneer. For the past two years, his photos have appeared on several covers of the Whitman magazine and throughout the pages of each issue as well as in other publications and on the Whitman website.

Zimmerman's work also filled the walls of Stevens Gallery in Reid Center last fall, chronicling a semester he spent in Botswana, Africa, during his junior year.

For Zimmerman, who graduates in May with a major in psychology and a minor in studio art, photography is a hobby that became a passion and now may become a career, he says.

Meanwhile, his photos tell Whitman stories, from ultimate frisbee (pages 20-21) to first-year friends communing in the sunshine (cover).