WHITMAN COLLEGE

Winter/Spring 2008-2009

FACULTY GRANTS NEWSLETTER

Welcome to the inaugural issue of the Whitman College Faculty Grants Newsletter! I hope that this biannual newsletter will provide faculty and staff with useful information about upcoming grant opportunities. Whitman enthusiastically supports faculty and staff who are interested in applying for funding from external sources, and encourages you to apply for individual grants and fellowships to support your research or scholarship.

The Office of Foundation & Corporate Relations (Rachna Sinnott), along with the Office of Sponsored Programs (Tana Park), can help you research, prepare, and submit grant proposals to private foundations, corporations, and government agencies, and can also assist you with grants management and stewardship (e.g., tracking budgets, reporting on progress and spending) after they are awarded.

We can:

- Help identify possible funding sources.
- Utilize our relationships with funding agencies to help increase the profile of your grant.
- Assist with learning about Whitman's history with a particular foundation.
- Assist with preparation and writing of background information (e.g., information about Whitman, letters from the President or Provost/Dean of Faculty).
- Assist with writing, editing, revising, and budget preparation.
- Follow up with funders once proposal is submitted and provide stewardship assistance once grant is funded.
- Facilitate communication between faculty and administration.

Contact Information:

If you see a grant in here for which you'd like to apply, please contact me, and I will help you get started. Please let me know how you like the newsletter, and feel free to submit notices of grant opportunities for inclusion in the next issue.

I look forward to working with you!

Helpful Tips:

- Want an overview of Whitman's grant application process? Visit the Foundation & Corporate Relations (FCR) website at http://www.whitman.edu/content/giving/fcr
- Have questions about Whitman's fringe benefit rate, indirect cost rate, and federal identifying information? Visit the Sponsored Programs website at http://www.whitman.edu/content/sponsoredprograms or contact Tana.
- Please note that you need departmental, divisional, and/or Provost approval before submitting most grants. We can help facilitate this process with our Proposal Development Form (formerly Proposal Approval Form). See the FCR website for information and to download the form.
- Need help navigating the online submission process (Fastlane, Grants.gov, etc)? Rachna or Tana can help you get started.

NSF: Theoretical Foundations 2008 Program Supports basic research into the central issues underlying computer and information science and technology. Research and education projects sponsored by the program strengthen the intellectual foundations of algorithms and theoretical computer science, cryptography, network and communication theory, information theory, numeric and scientific computing, signal processing, and geometric algorithms, and bring advanced mathematical capabilities from these areas to bear on fundamental problems throughout science and engineering. The program encourages investigators to include in their proposals innovative curricula or educational materials to help advance the training of new experts in the cognate areas served by TF.
