

Whitman College Climbing Center Group Program Usage

The climbing center is not completely open to the general public for risk management and liability reasons but Whitman users can bring guests. However, non-profit groups may have an opportunity to arrange special programs. During special programs some portions of the facility may remain open to Whitman users.

Specifics involved with different program options will be dependant upon the goals of the group and scheduling availability. Direct coordination with Director of Outdoor Programs is required prior to any group being allowed to use the rock climbing wall.

Examples of Possible Programs:
