

WHITMAN COLLEGE
Gender Studies Roundtable

Gendering Disaster

October 14, 2015

Olin 157

7 pm

Free and open to the public

Presenters:

Jane Henrici

Senior Research Fellow, Institute for Women's Policy Research

"Losing the Little We Had: Gender, Race, and Disaster Recovery in Peru, Haiti, and the United States"

Emily Jones

Assistant Professor of German and Environmental Humanities

"Gendering Disaster in Literature"

Cécile Stephanie Stehrenberger

Max Weber Center for Advanced Cultural and Social Studies, University of Erfurt, Germany

*"Disaster, Gender and Knowledge Production:
On the History of Social Science Disaster
Research, 1949-1989"*

Sponsored by:

The Gender Studies Program, Department of Anthropology, the Robert and Mabel Groseclose Endowed Lecture Fund, and the Global Studies Initiative

This roundtable is free and open to the public. Please contact Jason Pribilsky, Director of Gender Studies, to receive copies of the papers in advance of the event.

Email: pribiljc@whitman.edu

Photo Credit:

"Pat Nixon, climbing over rubble high in the Andes Mountains, June 29, 1970." Richard Nixon Presidential Library & Museum