Personal Essay

Some students have a background, identity, interest, or talent that is so meaningful they believe their application would be incomplete without it. If this sounds like you, then please share your story.

My identity as a resistance member is central to my sense of being, and I can say without a doubt that without mentioning it, my application would be left incomplete. I wasn't always a member of the Galactic Resistance, but after the First Order's atrocities committed against my home world, I was motivated to get out there and make a difference in the galaxy.

I started out resisting against the First Order with just my sister, Paige, but soon was able to find a new family and sense of belonging within the Resistance. We're sometimes misunderstood as an organization, with some calling us "rebels" and "terrorists" but in reality, we work to make the galaxy free from tyranny and oppression by the First Order. I devoted much of my high school life, especially my senior year, to taking rigorous courses to make sure that I can contribute to the cause as much as possible, and even took on an internship to go along with my job!

After a few years helping out the Resistance after school in my work as a maintenance worker, I have found my calling. This calling is not something that I can accomplish alone, but rather something that can only be accomplished through the power of friendship and cooperation. I've seen the impact that standing back and not doing anything can have on the world, and instead of being a bystander in the long road of life, I choose to resist the forces of evil in my own small way and make a positive impact on my community.

Dear admissions committee,

I want to emphatically state that Rose is an amazing applicant for any college out there! She has been an amazing worker for our company for the past few years, and even did a higher-level engineering internship with us to boot. I can't speak highly enough of the work that she did. Her work ethic shines through, and she is an extremely fast learner.

In regards to her academics, I have heard that she is a great student, and I know that the internship program that she completed required her to do a lot of high-level calculations and work. I have found that she is a great team-player, and her kindness is something that truly sets her apart and makes her the glue that holds our team together.

I can't write enough about her commitment to excellent work as well. She is always willing to give it her all, and for that we have been super grateful. I have no doubt that she will be a fantastic addition to your institution and will go on to do great things in this galaxy.

Best,

Director Connix

Resistance Engineering Corps

Dear admissions committee,

I wanted to strongly recommend Rose to your institution. She has been an integral part of our organization, and without her, many fellow Resistance members would not be here today. In terms of skills, she has had tons of experience in the Engineering Corps, and I have heard wonderful things about her work ethic, determination, and kindness to those around her.

If you have any questions or concerns about Rose, feel free to contact me and I'll be more than happy to talk through Rose's experience within the Resistance movement.

Best,
General Leia Skywalker Solo Organa
