As a graduating film and media studies major, Ella Meyers was disappointed when her chance to film a music video project was canceled twice in her senior year—first in the fall when the college announced a fully remote semester due to the COVID-19 pandemic and again in the spring when social distancing guidelines prevented the collaborative filmmaking class. Meyers did not want to earn her degree without having gained practical experience in filmmaking, so she started looking outside of Whitman to get that hands-on experience.

Supporting the Whitman Museum’s Summer WIG! Meyers began working as the videography intern at the Whitman Museum in mid-February. She worked with award-winning videographer and Whitman alumnus Tim Kasner to film a video about the museum's new exhibit, Too Cool to Be True: Frank Zappa and Los Angeles: 1967-1980. The video was released on May 27, 2021.

Meyers’s WIG blog provides a glimpse into the extensive library services offered even when the building was closed.

Next Step prep: Your Mental Health and Senior Year

Q. What type of COVID-19 testing is currently available in Walla Walla?

A. The primary location for testing in Walla Walla is Providence Urgent Care. They are currently testing people who meet any of the following qualifications:

- Symptomatic patients
- Pre-medical procedure patients
- Pre-air travel: For travel testing, please carefully check the requirements of your airline and destination. Some places such as Hawaii require testing must be performed, and may not accept a test from others such as Providence Urgent Care.
- People without symptoms who have been exposed. Exposure is defined as unmasked contact with a COVID positive person within 6 feet for more than 15 minutes. Five to seven days from exposure must have passed before asymptomatic testing will be allowed.

Other testing locations are available on the Walla Walla County Department of Community Health COVID-19 website.

Spring 2021 Library Newsletter Available

Penrose Library is delighted to share the Spring 2021 Library Newsletter with the Whitman community. It’s full of news about the accomplishments of the library staff during very challenging circumstances—everything from providing new, enhanced, digital services and materials to the construction of a new classroom for instruction with archival materials. This newsletter will give you a snapshot of the library’s activities over the year and learned some tools for working through the challenges of the final collegiate months.

Interview Today for VP for Diversity & Inclusion

Our third and final candidate for the Vice President for Diversity and Inclusion position will be with us throughout the day. Please refer to the full interview schedule for individual sessions with faculty, staff and students and Zoom links.
