Philanthropy Friday: Meet Adam Delgado

This month for Philanthropy Friday, the Future Alumni Leadership Council is focusing on an alum who has done tremendous work in relation to the on-going elections and BLM. Jason Hansen '22 interviewed Adam Delgado '12, a user experience researcher at Facebook Inc., where he works on Instagram with a civic integrity and engagement team to empower voters in elections worldwide.

Additionally, Adam's position has him focus on the emotions, engagement and experience of their users, advocating for underestimated communities when designing research for his team and helping contribute to campaigns that advocate for minority and underserved populations.

Continuing the Conversation: Diversity, Equity and Inclusion \(DEI\) and Greek Life

Acknowledging that Greek Life has historically been a site of exclusion and harm, members of the Greek community are excited to hold a conversation with people from across campus to discuss the history of Greek organizations on Whitman's campus by exploring archival records. They will also present current DEI work in all eight Greek Letter organizations and what they hope to see in the future.

More Upcoming Events

Have a virtual event you'd like to share with campus? Email the details to whitmantoday@whitman.edu.

"Whitman Today" is produced by the Office of Communications and is emailed Monday-Friday to Whitman College staff, faculty and students. All times are listed in Pacific Daylight Time.

Submissions are welcome! If you have a professional or personal accomplishment to celebrate, an event to publicize or other content to share with the Whitman community, email whitmantoday@whitman.edu. Submissions should be 125 words or less. The deadline for submissions is noon for the following day's newsletter, though submissions may be held for a later date according to space and editorial needs.
