Town Talk for Students and Parents

This week we want to know: what kind of device are you using to read humanities, such as creative writing and storytelling. Following her presentation, how to cope with it by building community and finding hope and joy in the possibilities of the podcast "Facing It." In this event, Jennifer will discuss climate anxiety and different ways to celebrate this season. The Safer Gatherings website includes exceptions.

Some items in this governor’s announcement include:

1. Outdoor spaces where everyone can stay six feet apart.
2. Five or fewer people from outside your household (people you don’t live with). All participants quarantine for the 14 days prior to the social gathering. All participants must receive a negative COVID-19 test result no more than 48 hours prior to the social gathering and the longer that interaction lasts, the higher the risk of becoming infected.

We have received reports of non-compliance with this order and a medical review of contact-tracing cases has confirmed that people who are allowed to gather outdoors may have spread COVID-19 to those infected with COVID-19. To help slow the spread of COVID-19, we urge all members of the community to refrain from socializing indoors in groups larger than five people, or groups larger than 10 people, when each group is comprised of people who do not live together.

The Academic Program

Juhasz & Kelsey Martin

The History of Forced Sterilization. Nov. 18, 4:30 p.m.

Karen Walwyn is area coordinator of keyboard studies at Howard University and is the first female African-American member of the piano faculty. She is a collaborative artist and has performed and taught throughout the United States and internationally with numerous artists. Walwyn received her Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Southern California and her bachelor's in music from the University of Delaware.

Masterclass and Conversation with Dr. Karen Walwyn

Q&A Panel - Breaking the Closet Week

Atkinson will open the webinar for questions. Register for this webinar. This informational event on the history of forced sterilization in the U.S. and providing context for contemporary social issues will be sponsored by ASWC Sustainability and the Mental Health Awareness Club.

Q&A Panel open to all Whitman students, staff and faculty to learn and ask questions about LGBTQIA+ experiences in relation to personal and professional goals. Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals?

Topic: Breaking the Closet Week

Alzada Tipton, Provost and Dean of the Faculty

Kazi Joshua, Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students

Peter Harvey, CFO and Chair of the Coronavirus Task Force

Tom Husbands, President

Karen Walwyn is area coordinator of keyboard studies at Howard University and is the first female African-American member of the piano faculty. She is a collaborative artist and has performed and taught throughout the United States and internationally with numerous artists. Walwyn received her Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Southern California and her bachelor's in music from the University of Delaware.

Masterclass and Conversation with Dr. Karen Walwyn

Q&A Panel - Breaking the Closet Week

Atkinson will open the webinar for questions. Register for this webinar. This informational event on the history of forced sterilization in the U.S. and providing context for contemporary social issues will be sponsored by ASWC Sustainability and the Mental Health Awareness Club.

Q&A Panel open to all Whitman students, staff and faculty to learn and ask questions about LGBTQIA+ experiences in relation to personal and professional goals. Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals? Learn how reflection can help you to articulate how your experiences in your community relate to your future goals?